Your ATA Library

Books and Beyond!

The ATA library has a fabulous collection of more than 13,000 books in English and French and provides access to two online databases that are full of articles for your professional development and research needs.

Our collections are available to you online 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. You can search the catalogue, reserve items or print articles whenever it fits your schedule.

We are happy to help you with any information needs related to your professional development. Please contact our friendly library staff at any time during our work day!

Your Library Catalogue

To use our library catalogue, visit the ATA Library website (<http://library.teachers.ab.ca>)

To request an item from your ATA library:

- Enter your search terms in the Search the Catalogue box and press Enter.
- Click on the Request button on the grey bar.
- Sign in with your member's login on the next screen.
- Click on the Request button again.
- Fill out any missing information on the email screen, and press OK.

If you need assistance locating information in our catalogue please contact our friendly library staff.

Loan Periods

You can borrow books for a period of one month, renewable for one month unless the book is requested by another member.

You can borrow videos for two weeks. Videos are renewable for two weeks, but because of the high demand for these materials, we may not be able to accommodate all renewal requests.

Accessing Your Library Databases

You must log in to the ATA website to access the two journal databases. If you do not have a member's login, please click on the Request an Account button on the login screen. Once you have successfully logged in, you will see a box called Other Resources on the left side of the library page. Click on Find Articles in that box.

Choose the database you wish to use. Both databases will provide you with full-text access to thousands of articles on a wide variety of topics related to teaching and education.

Surfing the Information Wave

Overwhelmed by the information tsunami that results whenever you do a Web search? Feel dread when you have to look something up?

Our library team are expert searchers who can help you navigate the information seas—we are your online surfing coaches. Call us anytime during office hours.
